Cary Mullen

Travels from: Canada

Fee Range: $10,001 - $15,000

With his business background as a serial entrepreneur and published author, Cary Mullen is a recognized expert on winning! Even during his athletic career, Mullen has always been an entrepreneur at heart. He has founded many business ventures and has formerly partnered with the world leader in business training.

As Sales and General Manager for Dale Carnegie Training, he has consulted with many international corporations to help them achieve better results.

This global perspective is enhanced by Mullen's present-day, thriving real estate investment company as well as a resort development company based in Puerto Escondido, Mexico.

An internationally recognized sports personality, Mullen currently holds the World Downhill Speed Record for skiing 97 miles per hour down the world's most famous ski course in Kitzbuhel, Austria. He was a non-prodigy who used the 5 Winning Secrets™ to become a leader on the National Ski Team for 11 years, a two-time Olympian and ultimately World Cup Champion. With these athletic accomplishments combined with his successful business background and ability to move an audience to action, Mullen shares what it takes to win in a highly competitive market.

His personal mission is to promote and develop champions. He realizes the importance of giving back and lends his time and name to many charities. As a community leader, Mullen has founded 2 charitable foundations and is on the Board of Directors for the National Olympic Development Association and the National High Performance Advisory Committee.
