Craig Zablocki's success in using humor and a lighter approach has encouraged and inspired thousands of people internationally and in all 50 states!

A nationally known speaker and consultant, Craig has shared the platform with Al Gore and Tom Peters. He was the first outside speaker to address the student body of Columbine High School after its tragedy.

Craig presents to Fortune 500 companies, legislators, public service and healthcare professionals, college campuses, non-profit service organizations, and victim rights groups. He has authored Improv 101, Unleash Your Creative Spirit and co-authored the book, Humor Me as well as authored many articles for major publications. He has appeared on countless radio and television programs, including Nation Public Radio which gives practical tools to loosen up, become more creative and live in the moment.

A background in business, teaching in an inner-city school, and performing in a professional improvisational comedy troupe allows Craig to speak from a unique perspective. One participant wrote, "We should harness his energy - it could power a small city. His passion and commitment to making a difference is contagious!"
