Emory Austin

Travels from: North Carolina

Fee Range: $5,001 - $7,501

One of only a handful of great women speakers, Emory Austin is sparkingly unforgettable: a rare combination of warmth, solid substance and humor that captivates and entertains. Enliven your meeting with her themes of idea generation, leadership, change, balance, branding, customer service -- the whole strata of behaviors necessary for optimizing change. Successful Meetings calls Emory's video, An Ounce of Different, one of the decade's best. Emory is a top international choice for increasing vision, loyalty and profit!

For her business clients she analyzes needs, connects life lessons to business strategies, and creates original material for your center-stage. Her presentation style is refreshing, upbeat and energetic, with a dynamic mix of message and laughter, uncommon perspectives, concrete solutions, and exceptional platform presence.

Her exceptional skills make Emory the inspired choice for memorable conference openers and closes, seminars, luncheons, and partner programs. She's a natural!
