Jeff Salz, CPAE, Ph.D.

Travels from: California

Fee Range: $10,001 - $15,000

One of today's authentic adventurers and explorers, Jeff Salz has traversed many of the remaining blank spots on the globe. An expert in creativity in the face of adversity, Jeff is the 'leadership guru' for top management at such cutting edge organizations as Microsoft, eBay and Disney where he was the creativity consultant for the production team of The Lion King. A recognized television personality, he creates and stars in adventure specials for the Discovery, Travel and History channel.

Jeff provides the foundation for adventurous thinking in any organization. An authority on overcoming adversity, a 30-year veteran of adventuring and exploring with a Ph.D. in cultural anthropology and a Masters in experiential education, Jeff spent 10 years as a university professor. For the last 15 years, he has been safely guiding organizations through the turbulent seas of change, facilitating enhanced teamwork by helping them build 'cultures of vitality'. Jeff's best selling book, The Way of Adventure, is a manual which assists organizations to keep the flame of adventure alive every day.

Through Jeff's keynotes and trainings audiences gain skills and insight around themes that include:

- Easy times are our enemy - adversity is truly a gift - it wakes us up
- The journey of change is ceaseless - the real challenge is to face it with a joyful heart
- True success and vitality stem from the commitment to be the best you have ever been

Jeff's passion for our global similarities and thrilling adventure tales inspire audiences to, "see things they have never before seen... or see familiar things as they have never before seen them."
