Born in Athens, Georgia, Karen's southern accent is somewhat of an anomaly in Maine, where she now resides.

After years as a successful trial attorney, Karen became a full-time mother before launching her career as a comedienne and writer. She made her national television debut on a one-hour comedy special only months later. Since then, Karen has appeared in theaters and on radio and television nationwide. As a corporate speaker and author, audiences applaud Karen's hilarious views on life. She recently became the featured comedienne for Nestlé® Very Best Kids.

Very early in her comedy career, Karen made the lofty jump from comedy clubs to theater performances - and audiences could not be happier. Whether performing in a one-woman show or with a troupe of hilarious colleagues, Karen's style of comedy is particularly suited for theater audiences who seek a clean and clever show.

Licensed to practice law both above and below the Mason-Dixon line, Karen's background as a trial attorney and now professional comedienne make her the perfect speaker for any corporate event. Karen's appearances include keynote speaker, after-dinner speaker, luncheon performer, master of ceremonies, CLE presenter, motivational speaker, educator and auctioneer. If you are looking for professional corporate comedy, look no further than Karen Morgan.

Selected as one of seven finalists from 1,000 entries to appear on Nickelodeon TV's "Search for the Funniest Mom in America," Karen appeared in two seasons of SFMA at the beginning of her comedy career. Since then, she has appeared regularly on television, including her humorous parenting segment, "You Gotta Be Kidding Me," which can be seen on WCSH Channel 6's "207" show.

Karen's radio spot, "The Mother Lode," can be heard each week on The Coast Morning Show 93.1 FM, where she brings laughter to morning commuters and radio listeners. She also appears on other radio stations around the country, including a one-hour comedy special with "Mama's Night Out" on Sirius satellite radio.

Karen's book, You Might Be A Mama (© 2006, PER Publishing), is a hit! Available in bookstores, online, in gift stores or after all of Karen's shows, this book is a jovial nod to motherhood inspired by fellow southerner Jeff Foxworthy. Her next book, tentatively entitled My Grandmama Has Lost Her Mind, is due out next year.
