Keith Matheny

Travels from: West Virginia

Fee Range: $2,500 - $5,000

Keith Matheny is one of the most entertaining and delightful speakers you will ever book!

From the moment he takes the platform he will captivate, amuse, inform, and inspire your audience. Over the past decade Keith has toured nationally with a unique brand of motivation that combines audience participation with the fun demonstrations of the power and ability of the mind. His messages are geared toward helping people improve self esteem, gain confidence in their abilities and achieve results far beyond the norm.

You will be amazed to watch Keith meet with your people during a reception and then remember the names of over 100 of them during the program. Sound impossible? Keith will even explain how you can do it and how easily it can be done.

The memory portions of Keith's shows are simply unbelievable as he learns the names of over 100 people just minutes before the show and later identifies each person by name. In another demonstration, three city phone books are handed out for examination. An audience member chooses one, opens it to any page and selects a phone number. Incredibly, Keith calls out the phone number chosen!

His programs are ideal for groups and companies who are looking to drive up sales, manage change, and raise their level of performance. Make your next event fun, energetic, and memorable. Book Keith Matheny today and become the envy of your planning committee tomorrow!
