Rita Emmett is a published author, speaker, trainer and professional educator. She designs her presentations with two objectives - that people will earn some nitty-gritty ideas which they can use RIGHT NOW and that learning CAN be fun. In her high content/high fun interactive keynotes and seminars, Rita uses principles of Accelerated Learning which help your people absorb more ideas, retain them longer and achieve results. Plus her enthusiasm leaves your group feeling energized and motivated.

People love her humor and story telling, and after attending her up-beat presentations, participants agree that they actually enjoy the process of learning and experience positive, life-changing results.
