Sports Illustrated has named Roger Crawford as "one of the most accomplished physically challenged athletes in the world." In recognition of his extraordinary athletic achievements, he was given the prestigious ITA Achievement Award, presented by the International Tennis Hall of Fame.

After realizing tremendous success on Center Court as a Division 1 athlete, he took his talents to Center Stage and became a motivational speaker.

Roger positively influences audiences worldwide, eloquently sharing the principles he has lived. Those include adaptability, possibility thinking, and eliminating self-imposed obstacles. His remarkable life story is a powerful example that "challenges are inevitable, defeat is optional!"

Roger has been inducted into the National Speakers Association Hall of Fame in recognition of his professional success. As a member of the Hall of Fame for People with Disabilities, he shares this impressive distinction with fellow honorees such as Christopher Reeve, Helen Keller, and former President Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

You may have seen Roger Crawford interviewed on Good Morning America, CNBC, Monday Night Football, The Today Show, and many other prominent television programs.

The Tennis Channel produced a feature segment about Roger's life as an athlete and professional speaker, which aired during the U.S. Open.

The print media has profiled Roger in publications such as Wall Street Journal, USA Today, Men's Fitness, Fast Company, and Tennis Magazine.

Roger is also a bestselling author whose books have been translated into 17 different languages. His most recent book, Think Again! Discover the Possibilities Hidden in Plain Sight, helps readers embrace change, improve their mindset and achieve breakthrough performance.
