Scott Burrows has used his powerful success formula - Vision, Mindset and Grit - during his entire life to maximize untapped potential, excel and surpass the competition.

Scott played college football at FSU under Head Coach Bobby Bowden and was a number one-ranked kick-boxing champion, with his last fight broadcast on ESPN.

At the age of 19, Scott's life took a dramatic turn - he was a passenger in a single car accident which left him paralyzed from the chest down. Diagnosed a quadriplegic and confined to a wheelchair, Scott would not be sidelined. He applied his beliefs that make up his formula Vision, Mindset and Grit and went on to achieve the impossible!

After graduating from the University of South Florida with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Finance, he entered the life insurance industry and grew his business through 90 percent referrals after his first year. In five short years, Scott qualified for the Million Dollar Round Table, a 100% commission-driven reward. Less than 6% of his peers achieve this yearly recognition!

A 'Murder-ball' athlete and co-author of Conversations on Success demonstrates that Scott continues to be on the playing field of life. Today, he is President of an International Business venture, exporting custom blended fertilizers to golf courses in various Asian markets.

All he has learned from his early athletic days, his horrific accident and the tremendous support from his family and friends have helped Scott to see that "Anything is Possible!" You only need to believe in yourself, visualize your success, have the gritty desire to discipline yourself and persevere to see things through in spite of the circumstances.

Scott presents to numerous organizations around the world, revealing that we can all maximize our human potential and surpass the competition through Vision, Mindset and Grit!
