Sherry Waldrip

Travels from: Washington

Fee Range: $2,500 - $5,000

Having celebrated her 25th year of being cancer free, Sherry Waldrip has chosen this time in her life to take to the platform "full speed ahead!" to carry forth her message of humor, hugs and hope.

Sherry has been an inspirational speaker since 1986. Her early training and experience came through Stonecroft's international organization Christian Women's Club.

After her experience with cancer, Sherry gave birth to her third child...her award winning book I Don't Remember Signing up for Cancer! (WinePress). She then graduated from Florence Littauer's CLASSpeakers, Inc. and has also been a member of Toastmaster's International. Her speaking has taken her throughout the United States as well as Canada. In 2014 Sherry released her second book, Nana Needs a Rutabaga which is a children's book that tells the story of two boys who try to save the day.

Whether Sherry's speaking for a cancer event such as Race For Women or a Pink Ribbon Banquet, a fundraiser, a businesswomen's conference or luncheon; whether she's speaking to doctor's wives, legislators or children, her heartwarming encouragement, humor and candor are well received. Her audiences have stated that they've found themselves laughing in the most unexpected places.

Sherry speaks with a warmth and empathy that touches and encourages the hearts of her audience. Her presentations bring both laughter and tears; and those who attend leave reassured that faith, family, friends and frivolity can revitalize a heart broken by cancer.
