Walter Bond

Travels from: Minnesota

Fee Range: $7,501 - $10,000

Walter Bond is a speaker who motivates people not by reading books or listening to tapes, but by his real life story of trials and triumphs. Growing up in the city of Chicago as the youngest child of a high school principal and grade school teacher, Walter always dreamed of playing in the NBA. Walter's eight-year professional career landed him as a player with the Dallas Mavericks, Utah Jazz and Detroit Pistons. He also spent time as a broadcast analyst for the Minnesota Timberwolves.

Over the years, Walter's message of teamwork, personal development, motivation and attitude has helped groups to reach their potential. Walter's inspirational, thought provoking and humorous message will enlighten and encourage people from all walks of life.

Walter received his BA in Communications from the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis. Walter's professional career has afforded him the opportunity to live and travel in various countries such as Greece, Italy, Germany, Egypt and Venezuela to name a few.

As a member of the National Speakers Association, Walter will customize his presentation to speak to the heart of your audience. Whether your group is looking to purely motivate, develop a plan of action or learn to work together at a higher level, Walter has the right message for you. Walter delivers impactful keynote speeches and interactive workshops to many national clients. Walter's message is practical and sincere and blends in just the right amount of humor to connect with any audience. Walter takes time to find out what is happening with your company and industry and completely does his homework in order to help your group ... Reach their Potential.
